As cleanup of cleared lots and other old buildings in the downtown area continues, the downtown community begins to emerge as it will appear in a year or so, beside the elimination of high curbs and moon-shaped streets.

The city might turn its interest, as well, to the Cameron Airpark, which reports say, could use some trimming and cleanup. A lot of cans and debris have been tossed along the runway, probably from passing cars.

Maybe the State Highway Dept. could be contracted to maintain the grassy areas along the runways and parkways. City workmen stay busy with new street construction and general maintenance.

Johnny Watkins, the KWTX-TV farm and ranch editor, is a pleasant host. He gave 10 to 12 minutes of air time one day this week over to a discussion of Folk Fete. His response to the Fete's development is somewhat typical of people who know something of community festivals.

He suggest that a building could be erected for continuous sale of ethnic foods, wares and other items following the Fete all during the summer tourist months. Sort of an ethnic "farmers market", each permanent display booth having its special interest to visitors. It's a good idea.

City councilmen and school board members are probably interested in what $50 worth of tennis balls and some bulbs brought in the sport. Last summer a tennis program brought out some 35 boys and girls, men and women for a two-month program, some 60 junior high students, seventh and eighth graders, went out for tennis outside school hours this spring and the junior high introduced tennis to the physical education program. Yoe High School taught tennis in phys ed and about 15 to 20 high school students, girls and boys, were playing regularly during spring interscholastic competition.

Council Sets Hearing On Gas Rate Hike

The city council has set a public hearing on the request by Lone Star Gas Co. for a rate increase in Cameron. The action came at a regular meeting Tuesday evening. The hearing will be held at 5:30 p.m. at City Hall on June 20.

Council also approved a salary increase for the police department, effective July 1, upon recommendation by Mayor Gene Blake. The chief's salary was raised from $525 to $600 sergeant to $485; patrolmen to $375 to start and $425 after six months and then $450 a month; night watchman to $340; chief dispatcher to $275; other dispatchers to $250 and meter maid to $160.

All pay is for a 48-hour week except for the meter maid, which is for a 24 hour week.

The mayor also recommended setting up the street and garbage department to work a 40 hour week with overtime pay after that, and minimum pay to be $1.60 per hour. The council approved.

A. W. McCullin, Urban Renewal executive director, reported on progress of the urban renewal project to the council, noting that the agency has an underrun on every phase of the budget. He showed charts explaining progress so far. He said he hoped excess funds might allow expansion of the project.

Two people appeared before the council to offer thanks for services. Jack Chubb, Yoe High principal, thanked the council for help rendered to the school during the year by the police department. Frank Luecke, Cameron Herald publisher, thanked the council for tennis balls furnished by the city for the tennis program, and asked that consideration be given to building more tennis courts in the city, since at least 100 persons, adults and children, are tennis players.

Dr. John Martin, Miss Mildred Thornton and Mrs. Perry Holder appeared before the council to request that one block of 6th street be closed for a dance Saturday night.

After a long discussion about possible traffic problems, permission was given. Martin explained that the Folk Fete planners wanted to keep activities near or at city park during the fete.

Edwin Bigbee told of getting phone calls about things that should be handled at City Hall, including barking dogs. Bigbee noted that as city building code inspector, he was not authorized to deal with enforcing city ordinances. Mayor and council agreed that all calls of that type should be referred to city hall.

Milam Voters Follow State Primary Trends

Voting trends in Milam County pretty much followed state trends as the second primary election was held June 3.

One exception was in the race for U. S. Senator. Ralph Yarborough carried the county with 2796 votes while Barefoot Sanders received 2386. Sanders won statewide.

In the race for governor, state trends were followed as Dolph Briscoe had 2991 votes to Mrs. Frances Farenthold's 2239.

For lieutenant governor, Wayne W. Connally was defeated by Bill Hobby, with 2316 votes for Connally and 2837 for Hobby.

In the Comptroller of Public Accounts election the incumbent Robert S. Calvert received 3235 votes to James Wilson's 1757.

In county races, Adolph Gresak with 406 votes defeated Albert W. (Red) Abel who had 271 votes for commissioner of Precinct 1.

For commissioner, Precinct 3, R. C. (Red) Richards was defeated by Gerald (Bigun) Vinton. That vote was 1023 to 1287.

Incumbent constable of Precinct 1, J. M. Terry, was defeated by just five votes by Claude C. Bailey. Terry received 687 votes and Bailey received 692 votes.

Voting was light in the Republican second primary. Albert B. Fay, candidate for governor, received 11 votes while his opponent, Henry C. (Hank) Grover received 21.

SOAP-STONE carvings from Brazil will be shown at Folk Fete '72 by Mrs. Jack Baldwin, a former Milam Countian, who with her husband, has started a new art focus in South America.

Former Texans Brighten Brazil

Former Texans are brightening the commercial life of distant Anapolis, Brazil.

Mary Martin of stage fame, who hails from Weatherford, has opened a boutique in Anapolis and the Jack Baldwins (she is the former Frances Nabours of Milam County) are turning native soap-stone into works of art that are collector quality.

Fortunately for Cameron, Mrs. Baldwin's visit home coincides with Folk Fete '72 and the soap-stone sculptures will have their first U. S. showing at City Park Friday and Saturday. Later this month they will be shown in New York and then will be available through art dealers in this country.

The pieces to be shown at Folk Fete range from individualistic statuettes to candle sticks, honey pots and decorative cookware.

The Baldwins have been producing soap-stone art at their ICAPS Ltd. workshop for less than a year, but the art pieces have already been purchased for private collections by every major embassy in Brazil and have been sold to tourists from 18 countries.

Most of the work has been sold at the Baldwins' retail outlet across from the National Hotel in Brazilia.

"We think each piece is special and have tried to keep a running account of where the purchases are going," Mrs. Baldwin said. Besides the major outlet in Brazilia, the Baldwins have retail shops in Sao Paulo and at their Anapolis workshop.

The stone ranges in color tone from natural white to shades of brown and even blue.

"After a piece is finished we wax and polish it and only then do we know what color it will be," Mrs. Baldwin said. This means that it is rare to find two identical pieces even though the basic design might be the same.

The Baldwins' workshop combines the talents of fine artists and high powered machinery. The artists, three at present, work on signed pieces that they sculpt by hand. Other workmen operate electric lathes to make the candlesticks, vases and decorator cookware.

But the story behind ICAPS Ltd. is almost as interesting as the work created there.

The Baldwins' move to Brazil was the answer to one of those adventure dreams that few see materialize. Rancher Jack Baldwin had been to Brazil in 1966 and wanted to return. Frances and her three children plus a son-in-law and his brother were also intrigued.

So Jack and Frances left Texas by plane and the five young people signed on as crew for a freighter traveling from Houston to Brazil. Thirty days later the slightly seasick, but sturdy travelers, joined their parents in Belem, Brazil, and the fun began.

The Baldwins loaded luggage, (14 suitcases and a trunk) saddles and sleeping bags on a jeep, barely leaving space for the 7 passengers. A 1,000 mile, 2-week, drive over uncharted roads and through dense jungle is recalled as mostly pushing the jeep up hills and coasting down. Sleep, huddled together in sleeping bags beside the road, came quickly each night for the exhausted travelers.

"It was a memorable journey," daughter Linda says. "None of us spoke Portuguese we nearly starved to death trying to order meals in restaurants along the way. But we'd lived in Yarellton, so we figured we could make it in Brazil."

The futuristic, planned capital city of Brazilia was finally reached and all relaxed in the comfort of a modern hotel. But not for long. The search for land proved fruitful when the Baldwins decided on a small farm six miles from Anapolis. The farm had only a primitive adobe cottage so again the family 'camped out' for the three months it took to build their present home.

City Readies For Folk Fete

Fun, food, music, dancing, arts and crafts will be ready for Folk Fete visitors come Friday at 10 a.m. That's when the festivities begin for this year's fete.

Crowds will watch a beauty contest for queen of the fete, and will enjoy a parade on Saturday, among other exciting events.

Ethnic food booths and arts and crafts displays will open at 10 a.m. Friday at City Park and the public library. The library will have a display of artists work and one of antique wedding dresses.

The food booths will feature different ethnic foods, and cool refreshments for thirsty visitors.

From 11 a.m. Friday until 1 p.m. the Funkadelics, a rock group, will play in the pavilion at city park.

Then from 1 to 4 p.m., Pete McCabe will MC the beauty contest at the park to select seven finalists for the night's crowning. Entries in the contest have been received from wide areas in the county. The girls will compete in formals and sport clothes.

At 8 p.m. Friday at Yoe Field, the Folk Fete Queen will be selected from the seven finalists and crowned. The runners up will serve as the queen's court.

The program at Yoe Field will include a dramatic reading of "Creation" by Nelson Cooke of Waco. This will be followed by the song, "What the World Needs Now" by Calvin Williams of Cameron.

This will be followed by Czech music played on an accordion by Miss Gloria Ribbeck. She will be followed by the Roaring 20s Dancers and then the Mexican-American dancers, 30 strong and ranging in age from 8 to 14.

The Dancers of '72 will perform next, a modern dance group. Archie Simmons & Son, a country-western group, will present "fiddling and singing." The finale will be presented by the German Dancers, directed by Charles Kunz.

On Saturday, the annual fete parade will start at 10, when food booths and displays also open at city park and the library. The parade will include floats, cars, Shrine groups, and many others, including bands.

Music will be provided at the park from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. by Jerry Haisler and His Melody 5, a country-western group. Also at 11 a.m. a domino tourney will start at the park, under the direction of P. B. Tucker of Cameron and H. A. Weems of Rockdale.

At 1 p.m. will be the fiddlers contest under the direction of Mark Towery, Har die Ellison, Buffalo Angell and John Dodd.

The tour of historic landmarks will start at 1 p.m. and end at 4. On this year's tour are Wied's Hardware, Ondrej's Blacksmith Shop, the Episcopal Church, the Camp home and the Norris Rogers home.

From 6 until 10 p.m. Saturday there will be two dances. One will be in the park pavilion with music by the Funkadelics, and the other will be in the roped off block of Sixth St. between Fannin and Lamar, with music by the Muchachos of Houston.

Loan Granted To Water Corp.

The Farmers Home Administration has approved a $290,000 loan to the Southwest Milam Water Supply Corporation of Milam, Lee, Burleson and Williamson counties, according to the offices of Sen. John Tower and Cong. W. R. Poage.

The funds will enable the corporation to extend its rural community water system to service 128 additional families and businesses in the communities of Sandoval, Hare, Laneport, San Gabriel and Tracy.

WIED'S HARDWARE in Dutchtown is another stop on this year's Folk Fete tour. The building was built by A. G. and B. J. Matocha in 1909 and the building belonged to the Mondrik Estate. In 1917 the original building burned but it was rebuilt by the Mondrik Estate. The store was formerly a gift, toy and hardware center, it was purchased in 1945 by E. L. Wied, but building still belongs to the Mondrik Estate. In the photo, Wied shows some of his sporting goods to three Folk Fete Tour guides.

Welcome To Folk Fete...

Welcome to the Folk Fete, Central Texans.

It's a bit different this year in a tour of blacksmith shop, historic hardware store, artist's studio, a church and even a modern home, for example.

But the ethnic dancers and singers are back; the art and crafts booths are going up; the ethnic foods will be on sale.

The downtown parade will bring in a good crowd. And the evening performance of a beauty pageant and entertainment Friday night ought to draw good crowds.

This the third year, and a transition year because the facilities for display and parking of automobiles are already tested by numbers prior years. The turnout will peak unless larger areas, like the new downtown mall area of Cameron are available.

It should be a good time for all the people who like variety, for it is there.

Everything from food to rock to modern church music to tours of blacksmith shop and modern home to beauty contests is scheduled. Floats, all manner of entries from other communities, fiddlers, domino tournaments, it is all there.

Fete is already organized on a permanent basis, coming up with finance, board of directors and regularly scheduled meetings during the year by new constitution and by-laws.

The third year is a crucial year. So join in the fun. Take your turn at seeing what art, music, drama, crafts, dance, practical skills like home cooking and carpentry can do combined.

It should be a good weekend.

What Others Say...

Foot-Dragging On Road Safety

When President Johnson signed the Highway Safety Act of 1966 he expressed the hope that it would be the means of curing "the raging epidemic of highway deaths." Nearly six years later, the nation's roads continue to take their staggering toll of lives, despite the appropriation of almost $300 million under the act to help states implement programs that are supposed to make the highways safer to travel.

The recent annual report of the Department of Transportation (DOT) on its highway safety program suggests one reason for the failure: foot-dragging by the states. A score-card showing how each of the 50 states, plus the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, has acted on the 16 programs for which the DOT has set federal standards, reveals that 24 of them have taken no action at all on at least one program.

Even those with the highest scores on the chart, Virginia and New Hampshire, have no room for complacency, since they are fully implementing only 6 of the 16. New Hampshire's governor, in fact, has said he's not satisfied with his state's progress, noting that traffic fatalities in the state increased by 20 percent last year.

Kentucky and Indiana, however, have even more cause for shame. Of the 52 states and territories, Kentucky ranks 40th and Indiana 46th. Even in those areas where Kentucky has a perfect score -- motorcycle safety, driver education and alcohol safety -- Kentuckians know that our record for accidents involving motorcycles and drunk drivers isn't good. We must, then, be doing very badly in the areas where we score low.

Indiana, while scoring 100 for its codes and laws relating to highway use and safety and for its motor-vehicle registration program, scores two zeroes -- for its failure to do anything about debris hazard control and cleanup on the roads, and its poor emergency medical services.

But though the fault rests heavily on the states for their inaction, Washington must take its share of the blame for not using the powers it has to force the states into compliance. The 1966 act provided some incentives for the states by offering to match funds on a 50-50 basis, but these funds haven't always been forthcoming. Such programs are easy targets for budget managers seeking ways to reduce deficits. The act also gave the DOT the authority to withhold 10 percent of the federal-aid highway construction funds from any state that wasn't moving to implement these programs by the end of 1968, but this power has never been used.

The states should be forced to measure up to these very minimum safety standards, and, they should be given the resources to do so. With traffic fatalities soaring from 38,137 in 1960 to 55,300 in 1970, President Johnson wasn't exaggerating when he talked about an "epidemic" of death on the roads. It's a situation that we don't have to tolerate unless we're fond of putting our lives on the line every time we climb in the car.

Yellow River Tamed

By James Pringle
Reuter Correspondent

CHENGCHOW, China
The Yellow River, once known as "China's Sorrow," has been tamed and the millions who live beneath its raised banks have lost their centuries-old fear of it.

Nowhere is this more true than in Honan, which used to be known as the province of the "Four Calamities" -- flood, drought, locusts and Tang, the Kuomintang warlord.

For it was in Honan, where 50 million people now live, that many of the river's 26 changes of course occurred over the last 3,000 years, bringing with them suffering and death.

Though the Yellow River (Huang Ho) basin is known as the cradle of China's civilization, the river itself was the grave of many millions of its inhabitants. It overflowed its banks 200 times in the past century alone, often with disastrous consequences.

One of the men responsible for the herculean task of bringing this vast waterway under control is 60-year-old Ma Yin-Ting, chief engineer of Honan Province, whose job was to harness the river along 435 miles of its length. Standing on one of the protective dikes beside Ma, a tough, wiry man with close-cropped hair who speaks the brusque dialect of Honan, the visitor quickly realizes the river's name is a misnomer. It is not yellow, but a muddy brown.

Ma explains that this is caused by the eddying silt carried down from the mountainous provinces in the west.

The Yellow River rises in Chinghai province, near Tibet, then hurries tortuously through Szechuan, Kansu, Ningxia, Inner Mongolia, Shensi and Shansi, before entering the lowlands at the ancient Chinese capital of Loyang.

It is this silt that has made the Yellow River as grim an oppressor as the feudal warlords who exacted their fierce tribute from a resigned peasantry. For the silt bed has caused the river to rise above the level of the surrounding countryside by as much as six to 30 feet.

On some stretches, junks can be seen sailing by, although much of the river is still unnavigable.

The task of taming the river in the lower reaches was never adequately tackled before, though Ma says he has seen irrigation systems in the upper reaches built during the Han Dynasty 2,000 years ago.

Even with the fall of the weak Manchus, in 1911, work did not begin. From then until the establishment of the People's Republic in 1949, China knew only either internal unrest or Japanese occupation.

In 1938, the Kuomintang forces, retreating before the Japanese, blew up the dikes near this city, capital of Honan province, and flooded 22 counties. The Japanese advance was briefly halted, but it cost the lives of 890,000 Chinese, according to statistics here.

Plans to regulate the river, which flows into the Gulf of Chihli, began in the early 1950s with the establishment of the Yellow River Planning Commission and the construction of the "People's Victory" canal.

The plans include the building of a "staircase" of 46 dams.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

NADER TO 'GRILL' EVERY CONGRESSMAN

REP. TENO RONCALIO (Wyo.) "Mark Twain once said that --

"It is the will of God that we must have Congressmen, and we must bear the burden."

"In an effort to help the American people 'bear the burden' Ralph Nader's CONGRESS PROJECT made up of 80 professionals in Washington and volunteers in EVERY CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT AND STATE CAPITOL, currently is seeking to provide comprehensive information about the Congress.

"A little light in the dark corners surely will be welcome. If the American people through additional information become more informed about Congress and its function, our jobs as Members of Congress, should be made easier.

"I welcome the study as I am sure many Members do. I am inserting today additional information describing the project. Included are two letters sent to every Member of Congress. (We include excerpts from one of these letters.)

CONGRESS PROJECT, Washington, D.C.
DEAR MEMBER: In a letter dated November 1, 1971, we explained the scope and purpose of our forthcoming Congress Project. An important segment of this study will be conducted in the home districts where researchers will contact your main district office in the course of obtaining information on the Congressional Process.

Our researchers will request interviews with members of your staff to learn how Members of Congress interact with the citizenry.

In case the earlier letter was not brought to your attention WE WOULD LIKE TO BE PLACED ON YOUR MAILING LIST TO RECEIVE YOUR NEWSLETTERS, RELEASES, AS WELL AS SPEECHES, and written commentary relating to the structure, rules, powers, and improvement of the Congress or its constituent parts.

Sometime during the months of May through August, one of our researchers from the Congress Project will request an interview with you in Washington. Your assistance will be appreciated; if you have any suggestions at any time, please forward them to us. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Ralph Nader,
Robert C. Fellmeth,
Project Director.

CRUMP'S COMMENT

Ralph Nader expects the CONGRESS PROJECT to be completed by October 1. The findings of the Project group should make very interesting reading.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

If a man hasn't got something to protest about these days he's so far out of style he's probably still carrying a pocket watch, wearing high-top shoes and carrying cold patches to fix flats with, so it was only natural that an 11-year-old girl should show up before a Senate committee in Washington protesting Saturday morning commercials on kids' T.V. shows.

According to her, the commercials are so bad, or so good, however you want to put it, that kids immediately rush out and demand that their parents buy the stuff, and parents, naturally not wanting to lose the everlasting love and affection of their children, comply.

Then when the kids, after a few years of eating all that cereal and having attained the mature age of 10 or 11, discover they don't feel any better or turn out more popular or prettier or stronger than kids who've been eating oatmeal all along, they begin to doubt the commercials, then begin doubting the adults who sponsor them.

"They find out that not all adults tell the truth," the young girl told the Senators. "They start disbelieving some things they say, and I feel this is dangerous." Come on, honey, you're on the right track, not the wrong track.

Dangerous? Quite the contrary, it's safe and wise. Of all the things a child needs to learn, and what better place is there to have it down on you than before a bunch of Senators, one of the most important is that you'd better not believe everything everybody says.

You'll find that while most grown-ups today weren't taken in by, but you'd be taken in by T.V. commercials when they were youngsters, it was mostly because there weren't any T.V. commercials then to be taken in by, but you'd be surprised how many of them ordered secret devices to throw their voice or rings with a secret compartment, as advertised on cereal boxes and comic books.

In preparing yourself to vote intelligently in a democracy, kids, the first step is to watch those T.V. commercials pretty closely, whether they're for post-toasties or politicians.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters to the Editor

June 2, 1972

Dear Mr. Luecke:

I enjoyed the jingle by Don Avriett in the Cameron Herald within the last week and thought it was very much in accord with your article NOW in the same issue.

Her jingle, in my interpretation, is symbolic to the time when Noah sent the dove out of the ark, after the earth had been destroyed by the flood and Noah knew if the dove brought back the olive leaf that the waters would have abated. Articles such as yours and also the jingle make us feel hope that the floods of trouble, misunderstanding and hatred are abated.

I was born and reared in Cameron and happen to be a namesake of Don Avriett.

Respectfully,
Mrs. W.C. (Don)

Crude Oil Production Tops Billion

DALLAS Texas crude oil production in 1971 topped 1 billion barrels for the seventh consecutive year as reserves fell toward the 13 billion barrel mark, according to a study by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. Texas oil wells produced 1,210,818,658 barrels last year, bringing the state's 82-year production total to 35.3 billion barrels. Reserves dropped 172,000 barrels. "With producers unable to increase drilling activities, additional oil supplies in Texas hinge on recovering more oil from existing fields," Robert A. Buschman, Association president, commented. Secondary recovery units in Scurry County contributed a major portion of the county's 5.5 million barrel increase in 1971, which jumped the county to No. 1 in Texas. Milam County oil wells have produced 6,284,259 barrels since recorded production began in 1921. The county in 1971 produced 476 barrels a day for a total of 173,893 barrels. Fourteen Texas counties produced more than 25 million barrels last year. The top three were Scurry, 73 million barrels; Ector, 69 million barrels; and Andrews, 67 million barrels. The top three counties in cumulative production are Gregg, 2.2 billion barrels; Ector, 1.7 billion barrels; and Andrews, 1.5 billion barrels.

Watermelons in good supply and good quality... To Shrink Or not To Shrink... Pecan Hearing Set... Egg Production shows increase...

HARVESTING of watermelons is moving to the Cotulla, Pearsall and Pleasanton areas. Watermelons now are in ample supply and the quality is good, also. Market prices reported relatively firm.

WHICH OF THESE is the best deal? An offer of $24.50 for your 400-pound steer calves without a shrinkage allowance, or $25 with a four per cent shrink.

You can get the answer to this plus a lot of other valuable information on livestock marketing in a handy, compact booklet available from the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for Livestock Marketing Handbook.

In the question above, the first offer will net you $98; the second offer nets $96.

Information in the handbook consists of three basic types: 1. conversion of live animals into dressed costs; 2. break-even cost charts for cattle feeding; 3. shrinkage section.

Also included are pointers to look for in selling your cattle as well as U.S. federal meat grades, average and range in dressing percentages of various kinds of livestock by grades, and motor freight rates for livestock in Texas.

Average yield of carcasses into retail cuts is also included.

The booklet contains tables showing the dressed costs at varying yields, shrinkage tables, and break even cost charts.

A HEARING involving the Texas Pecan Growers Association seeking certification to hold a referendum under the Texas commodity referendum law will be held June 15 at 10 a.m. in room 503-G in the Sam Houston office building in Austin.

The Texas Pecan Growers Association proposed to hold the election in all 254 counties in Texas. Main purpose of the hearing is to ascertain if the Texas Pecan Growers Association is representative of Texas pecan growers and if the referendum proposed is in conformity with the law.

Texas pecan production in 1971 was estimated at 23,000,000 pounds. Leading counties in production of pecans in Texas during 1971 included Gonzales, first, with 1,596,000 pounds; Guadalupe, second, 1,445,000 pounds; Hood, third, 1,180,000 pounds; Maverick, fourth, 959,000 pounds; Colorado, fifth, 880,000 pounds; Bowie, sixth, 876,000 pounds; El Paso, seventh, 784,000 pounds; Mills, eighth, 730,000 pounds; Comanche, ninth, 706,000 pounds; San Saba, tenth, 700,000 pounds.

More than half the counties in Texas have pecan production. Improved varieties normally account for about one-fifth of the state's production with four-fifths of the production coming from seedling varieties.

EGG PRODUCTION in Texas continued to increase during April. Texas egg production totaled 238,000,000 during the month; this is up nine per cent from a year ago. Texas layers totaled 12.6 million during April, three per cent above a year earlier.

Nationwide, total eggs produced numbered slightly more than six billion, up slightly from last year. The number of layers in the nation was down two per cent below a year ago at 314,000,000.

County Agent's Notes

Annual Crop Tour Planned

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Agent

The Milam County Crops committee met Thursday, June 2 in the County Extension office to plan the 1972 crops tour. Date for the annual tour is Monday, July 3. Final plans on tour stops have not been determined at present, but the committee plans to have some Temik treated cotton on the tour along with some TAMCOT Sp 21, 23, and 37 cotton varieties and experimental grain sorghum lines.

Crops committee members present at the planning session were: Wilburn Beckhusen, chairman; Frank Kratochvil, Hugo Aigner and agents John Snell and Bill McCutchen.

COTTON INSECT REPORT

Wilburn Beckhusen of Buckholts reported heavy migrations of fleahoppers into cotton fields in that area. Dry weather has decreased the quality of preferred host plants in the county and fleahopper numbers are increasing in cotton fields in most areas.

Cygon has been the most commonly used fleahopper material in the county and usually gives good control of the fleahopper nymphs for 14 days or longer. Other materials recommended for fleahopper control include Bidrin, Sevin, 4-2 mixture, and Dylux.

Medium to heavy boll weevil infestations have been noted around the county particularly near prime overwintering areas. Chemicals recommended for weevil control include Guthion, Sevin, Malathion (ULV), Methyl Parathion and Toxaphene plus Methyl Parathion.

To determine weevil infestation examine 100 squares, at least one-third grown, at random, taking a few squares at several representative places in the field. If 15 to 25 percent or more have weevil punctures, begin treatment. Apply insecticide at 5-day intervals to break the life cycle.

On younger cotton where weevils are found apply insecticide between pin-head size and first 1/3 grown squares to prevent egg laying.

Use insecticides only when necessary as we are approaching the cut-off date for early season control. Most farmers in this area consider June 15th to be the cut-off date for early season control programs.

STILES FIELD DAY

A full afternoon is slated for the 10th annual Stiles Farm Foundation Field Day June 20th. The farm is located one mile east of Thrall on US Highway 79.

The Field Day will feature tours of crop, livestock enterprises, information booths, a formal program and a free barbecue.

The tour will get underway at 2 p.m. and will feature pasture grasses, use of Temik in cotton pest management, precision planting and grain sorghum weed control, loose stacking of hay, swine waste disposal, sunflowers, and broadcast cotton.

Tickets to the barbecue will be available in the Extension office in the near future.

SORGHUM MIDGE

Most of the grain sorghum in Milam County has bloomed and is past the stage at which the sorghum midge can damage it, but increasing infestations have been noted and producers with grain sorghum blooming after this date should inspect fields closely.

Significant midge populations were noted in fields on June 1st and 3rd and populations are expected to increase quickly.

Demand For Cotton Increasing

With demands for cotton increasing and yields on the decline, 1972 will be a critical year for cotton, says Fred Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Cotton producers throughout Texas and the other Cotton Belt states must unite to provide mills with the type and amount of cotton that they need," emphasizes Elliott.

Texas production was down for the 1971 season with an average of 263 pounds of lint per acre. In 1970 the per acre yield was 315 pounds. Back in 1968, Texas cotton producers boasted an average yield of 410 pounds per acre. The Beltwide average has declined from 516 pounds per acre in 1968 to only 438 pounds for last season.

SENATOR BILL PATMAN

Sen. Patman Recognized For Conservation Efforts

Senator Bill Patman of Ganado has been recognized with a regional Texas Conservation Program award as the area's professional businessman giving the greatest unselfish service to soil conservation.

The award for Region III was presented to Senator Patman at the recent annual banquet in Floresville. The presentation was made by G. Stanley Teopich on behalf of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The award, a handsome plaque, honored Senator Patman's legislative work and his active local contributions to soil conservation through experiments in improved grasses, new cash crops and farm and ranch management.

Senator Patman had been nominated for the 1972 award by Jackson County S.W.C.D. directors Harry Hafernick of Edna, Jerome Peters of Ganado, John E. Frankson of Palacios, Rudolph Skalicky of Ganado and Albert C. Randall of Edna.

In their nomination to the 27th annual awards program the Jackson County soil conservation leaders cited Senator Patman for practicing what he preaches about soil and water conservation on the Patman farm.

The senator on his farm has planted many experimental grasses with an eye to beneficial use in his district. He also plants pine clusters for both wildlife habitat and economic development.

ment and works toward development of new methods to halt soil erosion and to free drainage ditches, creeks and streams from silt.

Senator Patman in 1969, realizing the need for removing excess water from the Jackson district, passed legislation creating the Jackson County County-wide drainage project -- a program which has provided some 100 miles of adequate drainage outlets to landowners and operators in the district.

Mexia Sets JC Rodeo

The annual Mexia Jaycee Rodeo will be held Friday and Saturday, June 16 and 17, at the Jaycee Rodeo Arena in Mexia.

The show will begin at 8 p.m. each night.

Featuring bareback riding, calf roping, bulldogging, ribbon roping, barrel racing and bull riding, this year's production promises to be one of the best ever.

Contestants may enter by calling 214-389-3596 between 8 a.m. and 12 noon, on Thursday, June 15.

All proceeds from the rodeo will go toward the improvement of the Mexia Jaycee swimming pool.

U.S. Forest Service goals for timber sales in fiscal 1973 are reported at 10.97 billion board feet, or 12 percent below 1972 goals.

Screwworm Cases Set New Record

MISSION A record-breaking 1,563 screwworm cases were confirmed in Texas for the week ending May 27. This compares to 780 cases the previous week and 600 two weeks earlier.

According to officials of the Mission Screwworm Eradication Program, the outbreak spread to 16 new counties during the past week, upping the infestation area to 109 Texas counties. Newest counties hit by the flesh-eating livestock pest include Concho, Lampasas, Nolan, Stonewall, Howard, Jack, Knox, Comanche, Runnels, Brown, Coke, Grimes, San Saba, Willbarger, Young and Reeves.

Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., eradication program director, said Arizona also recorded nine new cases, pushing the tally for the week to 1,574 cases in the United States. Large numbers of new cases also were reported in many portions of Mexico near the U.S. border.

Total case count for the year thus far is 4,447, compared to 444 for all of last year. Texas thus far had recorded 4,382 cases; Arizona, 57; New Mexico, 5; California, 2; and Oklahoma, 1.

"All areas where cases are confirmed are being treated with sterile flies," points out Meadows. This involves "hot-spotting" or dropping about 100,000 sterile flies at each location. In addition, 1,600 flies are dropped per square mile each week in the southern part of the state that has heavy infestations. Certain other areas receive sterile fly drops at the rate of 500 to 800 per square mile each week. When cases are confirmed in scattered western and northern counties, routine fly drops are made along rivers and streams in addition to the "hot-spotting."

Meadows urges all producers to check their animals frequently, collect any worm samples from wounds and treat the wounds with a recommended product. Worm samples should be sent to the Screwworm Laboratory, Box 969, Mission, Texas for identification.

The program director also cautioned producers to delay such operations as docking, branding, dehorning and castrating. "These operations leave a wound and that's an open invitation for the screwworm fly to layher eggs. Almost 90 percent of all confirmed screwworm cases come from man-made wounds and from the navels of young calves," he added.

County Farm Bureau Meets in New Building

The Milam County Farm Bureau board of directors and some of the wives met Thursday night June 1 in their new building with 14 directors present.

Dee Knox and Durwood Tucker were guests for the evening. Durwood presented the new contracts with Texas Farm Bureau for adoption by Milam County. The contracts were accepted by the board.

Edwin Lehmann thanked all those who had helped to make our new building possible.

Bill Arthur and Bobby Berry gave their monthly production reports for insurance sales.

Albert Slovak gave the tire and battery report for the month and Carl Grothe gave the membership report in the absence of H. M. Yager, who is the membership chairman.

Morris Coward gave a program report for the Queens Contest. A committee was appointed to work on the contest. A date will be set by the committee.

John A. Smith, District 8 Director for Texas Farm Bureau and Milam Co. board member, gave a report on what is being done in the district by other County Farm Bureaus. It was agreed that Milam County go along with the other Counties in the District to help a T.V. the District to help promote a T.V. program.

Carl Grothe, District 8 representative of the Young Farmers and Ranchers Committee, gave a report on the state wide meeting which was held in Brownwood on May 8 thru 10. Carl and his wife Linda attended this meeting and he told there would be a national meeting which would be held in Dallas on Jan. 3, 1973 and this meeting would be hosted by Texas.

Mrs. Edwin Lehmann, Women's Committee chairman, gave her report on the Students Citizenship Seminar and the Contest for the County to pick the three students who would go to Waco in July. The board of directors voted to have open house on Sunday 25 of June from 2 to 5 p.m.

Haiti Replaces Mexico For 'Quickie Divorces'

By Charles Lambelin
Reuter Correspondent

PORT AU PRINCE

An increasing number of Americans are arriving in Haiti married and leaving divorced.

Haiti is rapidly taking over the place once filled by Mexico in the "quickie divorce" business. A year ago, it passed a new law based loosely on the Mexican model easing divorce proceedings.

"We are dealing with about 20 cases a month and it's increasing all the time," says American lawyer Donald McKay, who formerly practiced in Mexico and now enjoys almost a total monopoly on the "quickie divorce" business in Haiti.

McKay, who describes himself as a "counselor in Haitian law," can often be found at the Francois Duvalier Airport in Port Au Prince awaiting the arrival of clients.

He built up his practice during eight years in Mexico.

But he was put out of business there when the government, anxious to improve its world image, decided in 1971 that anyone wanting a Mexican divorce would have to live in the country for at least six months.

McKay estimated that, at the peak of his Mexican business, the "quickie divorce" business brought some 50 million dollars into Mexico in direct or indirect income. In 1970 alone, there were 20,000 cases.

If there are no extra complications, it costs about $500 including lawyer's fees, air ticket and hotel bills, to get a divorce in Haiti.

Theoretically it should be possible to go through the procedure in less than 24 hours, leaving New York early in the morning and returning the same evening.

But it usually takes about three days. For example, an applicant for divorce coming in on a Tuesday has a chat with McKay in the afternoon, appears in court on Wednesday and flies back on Thursday.

The basis of the new Haitian law is that "incompatibility of character shall constitute grounds for divorce" and that "When a foreign plaintiff personally submits voluntarily to the Haitian jurisdiction and when a defendant shall have appointed a duly mandated representative, this voluntary submission of both parties to the Haitian justice will give competence to the Haitian court."

Because of this most of the divorces dealt with in Haiti are agreed to by both sides in advance. They require only the personal appearance of the plaintiff, and the defendant is represented by an attorney. In many cases all matters of custody, support and finances have already been settled.

In this case the final decree is signed by the court within 24 hours of appearance. If the plaintiff is ready to wait another 24 hours for the authentication by the American embassy, he can fly back home with the decre in his pocket.

Unilateral divorces can also be obtained but they are not recommended, as there is a risk that they could be reversed.

The divorce seekers are not all from the United States and McKay has dealt with plaintiffs from 28 countries, including Egypt, Taiwan, Australia, France and Israel.

He thinks there is a large scope for expansion although the trend in the U.S. now is to simplify proceedings in most states and this could cut into his business.

Jungmann son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jungmann of Buckholts. The bride is a 1969 graduate of C.H. Yoe High School and a 1971 graduate of Temple Junior College. The groom is a 1967 graduate of C. H. Yoe High School and has attended Texas A&M University. An August 19 wedding is planned at the Hope Lutheran Church in Buckholts.

Fish - The Great Outdoor Dish

AUSTIN

Fish can be a welcome and nutritious addition to the picnic basket, suggests the Seafood Marketing Division of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Picnics can happen most of the year in Texas, but with Daylight Savings Time here again there's an extra hour to enjoy them.

The success of a picnic depends heavily on how good the food is. The old favorites are fine, but sometimes a little variation can add a lot of interest.

Potato salad, for instance, is a good old standby but for a change try it with fish, as in "Texas-Tater Salad." Or take along a "Smoked Fish Log," for some tasty outdoor nibbling.

TEXAS-TATER SALAD

1 1/2 lbs. fish fillets
2 cups cooked potatoes, cut into small pieces

3 eggs, cooked hard and chopped
1/2 cup grated carrot
2/3 cup salad dressing
2 Tbs. chopped onion
pepper to season
1 tsp. salt

Place fillets in boiling, salted water. Cover and simmer about 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Drain. Remove skin and bones; flake. Mix all ingredients together and place in refrigerator until cold. Serve on lettuce. Serves six.

SMOKED FISH LOG

2 cups flaked fish or 1 lb. smoked fish fillets
1 tsp. liquid smoke, if not using smoked fish
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. grated onion
1 tsp. horseradish
1/4 tsp. salt

1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 Tsp. chopped parsley
Assorted crackers

Poach, drain and flake fish. Combine cheese, lemon juice, onion, horseradish, liquid smoke, salt and fish; mix thoroughly. Chill for several hours. Combine pecans and parsley. Shape fish mixture into a log. Roll in nut mixture. Serve with crackers. Makes approximately two cups spread.

THIRD FINGER

Wedding rings are placed on the third finger of the left hand because of an old Egyptian belief that a nerve ran from that finger to the heart.

PLENTY OF TEA

At the Boston Tea Party 342 chests of tea were cut open and emptied into Boston Harbor.

'Big Show' Finale For Pleasure Profit Club

"The Big Show" was the last program of the year for the Pleasure and Profit Club when they met in the home of Mrs. J. J. Heltman on May 18. Assisting Mrs. Heltman as hostesses were Mrs.

Roy Hensley and Mrs. Robert Clark.

"The Big Show" involved a display of creations by club members who told about their project and answered questions.

Some items on display included paintings, dimensional pictures, woven rugs, a molded candle, afghans, a hand-made quilt, shawls, painted plaster pictures, display frames, Scotch art, decorative pillows and a number of needlepoint pictures.

A business meeting was also held and a report from the program and nominating committees were given.

Mrs. J. A. Looney reported that her committee had nominated the following officers for the 1972-73 club year: Mrs. Paul Young, president; Mrs. Joe Walzel, vice president; Mrs. Bill McCutcheon, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Jimmy Bledsoe, reporter-historian.

Plans for a theme and possible programs for the coming year were also announced.

Climaxing the "Big Show" program, Mrs. Robert Clark presented each club member with an African violet plant.

Pendants Swing Into Fashion

COLLEGE STATION "Get into the hang of it with a pendant," Miss Becky Dunlap, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggested.

Pendants, which crept into the fashion scene last fall, have mushroomed into popularity, mainly because of their optimum creativity, according to Miss Dunlap.

Miss Tepera Is Shower Honoree

TEMPLE Miss Patsy Tepera bride-elect of Tommy Lemmons, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Marvin Lemmons. Hostess with Mrs. Lemmons was Mrs. Roy White. Special guests were Mrs. Rudolph Tepera Sr., and Mrs. Tommy Lemmons Sr., mothers of the couple.

The serving table was accented with an arrangement of purple flowers, the bride's chosen color.

The couple will be married June 17 at St. Cyril and Methodius Catholic Church in Marak.

"At present they recount nautical, Oriental and circus themes, but the trend is toward centering the story interest on animals (especially those of the endangered species), zodiac signs, enameled initials and personalized charms."

She said that the most exciting motifs by far center around the performing arts theme, depicting puppet-like characters.

In choosing a pendant, the Texas A&M University specialist said to keep the size in proportion to your own body size. A small woman will be overpowered by too large a motif, while small designs can become lost around the neck of a larger woman.

"A long pendant chain creates a longer line," she added. "The eye moves in an up and down direction with the longer chain, resulting in a slimmer illusion. A shorter chain adds more width to the figure."

Miss Dunlap said that an interesting pendant design should not be forced to compete with a busy background. Keep the bodice area simple.

Pendants aren't limited to casual garb but can also add drama to evening wear. Available in enamel, gold or silver finishes, they frequently combine two or more finishes in one.

"The flexibility and sensitivity of pendants to swerve in fashions and fads assures that the accessory necklace will have a definite place to hang in today's fashion picture."

Womens Film Festival Debuts In New York

NEW YORK The first international festival of Women's films, which will be held here in June, will include films ranging in theme from women's liberation to eroticism and exploitation.

The festival's sponsors include French author Simone de Beauvoir, actresses Melina Mercouri and Jane Fonda, and poet Susan Sontag. Films for the June 5-21 festival, which will include works from Italy, France, Sweden and Hungary, are grouped under such headings as the Feminine Mystique - After Betty Freidan's book of the same title which paved the way for the women's liberation movement - Women in Arabia and Africa, Social Protest, and Eroticism and Exploitation.

Director-actress Ida Lupino's "The Bigamist," actress-director Barbara Loden's "Wanda" and Dorothy Arzner's 1929 film "The Wild Party" starring Clara Bow, highlight the U. S. entries.

The festival will open with a gala showing of Mai Zetterling's "The Girls," about three Swedish actresses on tour with "Lysistrata," an ancient Greek comedy about women who end a war by refusing to make love with their husbands until peace is declared.

The actresses carry their roles into their off stage lives and denounce feminine apathy and male chauvinism.

The festival will also feature discussions on women in film.

One of four feature-length documentaries to be shown, "Three Lives," was produced by Kate Millett, author of "Sexual Politics," and filmed by the Women's Liberation Cinema Company.

Another documentary concerns writer Gertrude Stein. French director Annie Tregot's work documents exploitation of Algerian immigrants in France.

Another French entry, director Agnes Vardas "Cleo From Five to Seven," is the story of a young singer confronted with the possibility of death.

"Maedchen in Uniform," Leontine Sagan's 1931 work on authoritarianism in a girls' school, is a German entry.

Lina Wertmullers "The Lizards," and Italian film, is about an aimless group of young men preoccupied with sexual fantasies centered around a provocative blonde girl. It was filmed by Gianni di Venanzo.

One of Hungary's favorite pop singers, Kati Kovacs, stars in one of the Hungarian entries, "The Girl" by Marta Meszaros.

De La Rosa Loewenstein

Funeral for Esequiel (Zeke) De La Rosa, 44, of Temple was held Monday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church, the Rev. Arthur Michalka, the Rev. Rafael Nadal and the Rev. Robert L. Mahoney officiating. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery.

Mr. De La Rosa died Saturday morning of a gunshot wound.

He was born in Cameron and had lived in Temple the past 13 years. He was employed by the Veterans Administration as a file clerk. He served in the U. S. Army and was a veteran of the Korean conflict. He was a member of Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church and the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Miss Rebecca De La Rosa of Temple; two sons, Juan De La Rosa and Martin De La Rosa, both of Temple; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis De La Rosa of Cameron; four sisters, Mrs. Rosa Santos and Mrs. Mary Louise Flores, both of Temple, Mrs. Connie Medrano and Mrs. Virginia Garcia, both of Dallas; three brothers, Mariano De La Rosa of Cameron, Isidoro De La Rosa and Louis De La Rosa Jr., both of Cameron and his grandfather, Mariano De La Rosa of Bryan.

Pallbearers were Mariano De La Rosa, Isidoro De La Rosa, Louis De La Rosa Jr., Santiago Arredondo, Matias Arredondo and Ernest Arredondo.

Johnson

Mrs. J. J. (Sadie) Johnson, 78, of Cameron died in a Temple hospital early Monday.

She was born in Fayette County and lived in Cameron most of her life.

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home, the Rev. Bob Wimberly officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are a son, Thomas Johnson of Cameron; two daughters, Mrs. Lillie Mae Tindall of League City and Mrs. Myrtle Snadberg of Dickinson; three brothers, Will Gilbert of Buckholts and Newton Gilbert and Oliver Gilbert, both of Austin; nine grandchildren; 22 great grandchildren and two great granddaughters.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

Mowdy

Allen Wesley Mowdy, who would have been 107 May 25, died May 22 in a Corpus Christi nursing home. He was a former resident of Milam County.

A resident of Corpus Christi, he was born May 25, 1865 in Perry County, Ala. He and his family came to Texas in the only ox-drawn cart in a wagon train, the trip taking 65 days. The family stopped first in East Texas and then moved to Milam County later.

They homesteaded a 156-acre tract of land and Mowdy lived and worked on the farm until he moved to San Marcos in 1930. He moved to Corpus Christi in 1953 to be near his children.

Funeral service were held in Clifford - Jackson Funeral Home with the Rev. Dudley Bazar, pastor of Odom First United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery in Odom.

Kevil

Mrs. Nellie Kevil, 88, of Rosebud died Friday in a Rosebud hospital after a long illness.

Funeral was at 4 p.m. Saturday at Hoelscher Funeral Home, the Rev. R. L. Brown officiating. Burial was in the Barclay Cemetery.

Mrs. Kevil was a native of Rusk and had lived in Burlington and Rosebud since 1913. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Rosebud.

Surviving are two sons, W. F. Kevil of Rosebud and Glenn D. Kevil of Euless; a brother, W. E. Lucas of Travis; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Park of California and Mrs. Willie Gibbs of Marlin; eight grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Sweaks

It's pretty evident that we have toppled the little red schoolhouse. Ideas we had about economics, science, race and education itself, have come and gone. New ideas are broaching the surface of life and thundering over us.

Campus unrest and street demonstrations make us reappraise old values and ideas.

But one idea remains steadfast. It is the idea that God loves man and men, and that He cares about what happens to our lives.

Are shouting television newscasts and bold headlines overwhelming you? Then you need an open mind and a steady faith. God's love is for you. Your church is where you find out about it. Try it next Sunday. It will help you grasp an old idea, even if it is a new one for you.

ASCS NEWS

The farmers in Milam County signed up in the feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs have a vital interest in knowing and complying with set-aside rules in order to earn full farm program payments.

Some principal requirements in set-aside acreage provisions of the 1972 farm programs have been outlined by a local farm program official in response to continuing questions from farmers.

Purpose of set-aside in the feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs under the 3-year Agricultural Act of 1970 is to help reduce the potential American agriculture has for excess crop production. Farmers in the set-aside programs give up the use of some of their productive acres in order to help achieve an effective balance between supply and demand.

For that reason, farmers are asked to select land for set-aside that has the same average productivity as the program cropland on the farm. Farm payments may be reduced or lost if the average productivity provision is not followed.

Set-aside land must be designated and certified by July 1; that means producers must come in to the ASCS County Office by that date to give the location of their set-aside land. "A farmer certifies that he has set aside the acreage and has complied and will continue to comply with set-aside rules." After set-aside is designated and certified by a producer, his farm may be spot-checked at any time for compliance. If the farm is not in compliance, the producer may lose some or all of his program payment.

At a nominal cost, the SCS County Office offers set-aside inspection and measurement service which can provide farmers ahead of time with a guarantee of both acceptable quality and quantity of set-aside acreage. There is still time to obtain this service before the deadline date for designating set-aside.

Lone Star 500 To Crowd Speedway

COLLEGE STATION If you think Texas' roads and highways seem crowded at times, how would you like to be on the track when the Lone Star 500 takes off at Texas World Speedway on Sunday, June 25?

All you would need to do to stay in there with the Bobby Allison and the Richard Petty and the other NASCAR Winston Cup drivers would be a few small things, such as:

- * Cover the two-mile course at least once every 50 seconds. Just to be on the safe side, make that once every 45 seconds. And keep it up for 350 times around the track.

- * Make the equivalent of 1000 left turns.

- * Share a 54-foot-wide straightaway with 49 other cars, all of them in just as big a hurry as you are.

- * Plan on only six to eight "rest stops" during the 500 miles, each of those lasting only from 20 to 25 seconds.

- * Remember that you are traveling about 211 feet per second (or the length of a football field in 1 1/2 seconds).

- * Keep an eye out for green lights, yellow lights and red lights. (Yes, they have those at Texas World Speedway, too.) And remember there are some tough "traffic cops" in the starter's stand and the tower, making sure you obey all the regulations.

- * Remember it would take you 7 hours and 9 minutes at 70 miles an hour on an interstate highway -- driving without a pause -- to cover the same 500 miles you'll be covering in a little less than 3 1/2 hours on the Speedway.

- * Spend whatever spare time you might have thinking about such things as overheating, brake failure, loss of oil pressure, radiator and engine problems, fan belt or transmission difficulties, blowouts, clutch failure, broken axles, oil and gas leaks, burned out pistons, front-end and rear-end collisions, spinouts, and at least 101 other things.

Those are some of the reasons why the Lone Star 500 purse will be some $95,000, and will be worth every penny of it to the NASCAR-Winston Cup drivers who enter.

Reserved seat tickets to the Lone Star 500 are on sale by mail (Texas World Speedway, P. O. Box AO, College Station, Tex. 77840), priced at $20, $15 and $10. Fans ordering by mail are asked to send cashier's checks or money orders only.

Hearne Nips Cards, 4-3

In a Sunday game played at Hearne, the Hearne Eagles triumphed over the Cameron Cardinals 4-3 in a semi-pro baseball game.

James Lattimore hit a homer for the Cards with a man on. Henry Young was the losing pitcher. Catcher was Walter McMeans.

The Cards will meet Thorndale here Sunday at Colonial Field at 2:30 p.m.

How To Select

Air Conditioning

Those hot summer days are fast approaching and it's time to get air conditioning installed if you haven't already done so. The big question is determining what size cooling unit is needed.

W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service offers a "rule of thumb" on selecting air conditioning.

"A common guide is to figure one ton of air conditioning for each 500 to 600 square feet of floor area in the home. And, depending on local electric rates, a one-ton unit will cost about two or three cents per hour to operate."

With this in mind, persons with an average size home of 1,250 square feet of floor space will need about two-and-a-half tons of air conditioning. Cost of operation will be about seven cents per hour.

"Do not use the rule of thumb as a firm guide in figuring sizes and costs," cautions the Texas A&M University engineer. "The kind of home construction and location can cause requirements and costs to vary widely."

Allen suggests that homeowners carefully consider both the room unit and control-system unit when shopping for air conditioning. The cooling operation of both types is the same but conditions may make one a better selection than the other.

Scoring for the Braves were Willy, Cauley, Orsak, Mathews, and Scheguit. Mark Scheguit scored twice, one being a homer.

ICE SKATING

Skating on ice is possible because the weight of the body melts the ice and the skater really is traveling on a film of water which freezes again as the weight is removed.

FIREMEN'S RACING TEAM won first place at the Central Texas Firemen Association convention held at Llano in May. Their time was 16.6 seconds. The large trophy is a traveling trophy and the small trophy atop the large

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Ask the first 100 people you meet what their favorite sport is and chances are good that at least 70 will say swimming. Even golf and fishing have taken back seats as sport choices, a recent nationwide survey shows.

Thousands of new pools will be constructed this year throughout the nation. In Texas at this moment well over 50,000 pools are attracting swimmers like bees to a flower.

This is all to the good, because swimming lends itself to social adjustment. It teaches coordination and builds stamina and character. A child who overcomes fear of water has learned courage.

But there are also elements of risk. This accelerated interest in swimming creates hazards to life and limb, and dangers of disease transmission. That's why the State Health Department conducts courses to teach pool operators the various skills of their jobs.

"Short schools" for pool operators are concentrated during the months of spring and early summer, the intention being to enroll as many operators as possible before hot weather and overflow crowds make it hard for them to get away from their work.

Co-sponsored by the Texas Beach and Pool Association, courses consist of six hours of intensive technical and practical instruction. It covers such things as how to disinfect the water, and how to control water acidity. Water acidity, incidentally, is the factor which causes swimmers' eyes to burn; rather than chlorine as is popularly supposed.

The course also covers pool safety, bathroom sanitation, and the various filtering systems used by modern pools.

How important are swimming pools as links in the chain of disease transmission? Eye, ear, nose and throat, skin and intestinal infection are among the most common conditions spread in swimming pools. Typhoid fever and diarrheal disease have been traced to neighborhood pools.

Most prevalent, however, is ringworm of the feet, commonly called "athlete's foot." It is not contracted in pool water, but by walking on wet walks and floors on which the spores of the infection flourish.

In well operated pools there is little chance of contracting any of these conditions. That's the reason for the Department's emphasis on swimming pool sanitation.

Swimmers, too, have a responsibility toward pool cleanliness. Like most public places, a pool quickly assumes the character of its least desirable patron.

But when state and local health authorities, pool operators, and pool patrons join hands to make swimming what it should be--wholesome, safe, and fun--the results can be highly beneficial. That kind of cooperation is now going on throughout Texas.

"Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave?"

When you display the Flag, you're saying a lot about yourself.

You're saying that you believe in the principles on which our government was founded. And, most of all, that you have faith in the future of our country.

It also means that you want to stand up and be counted.

As members of the community, we're concerned that some Americans appear to have forgotten the true meaning of the Flag. The Flag itself may remind them.

So, display the Flag. It's not "flag-waving." It's not an idle gesture. It shows your colors.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Social Seminar

The war on drug abuse has lacked in resources and material with which to combat the enemy, but this situation is changing.

An important new resource for drug abuse education, for example, is now being added to our armament.

Called, "The Social Seminar:
Drugs, Education, and Society", it is a multi-media drug abuse education program designed for educational personnel use—teachers, administrators, trainers, school nurses, psychologists, counselors, and others.

The core of "The Social Seminar" (TSS) consists of an 18 part multi-media package which includes 15 films. Accompanying the package is an overall descriptive film, and general guidelines.

Also included is a discussion guide for each film, designed to facilitate and encourage participant interaction, because discussion is an indispensable part of TSS.

There is also a programmed text covering factual and pharmaceutical material relating to drugs. TSS is completed with a role-playing simulation program which includes a leader's guide, role cards, and a player's manual for each participant.

TSS approaches the problems of drug abuse and its prevention with the context of total society. The underlying perspective is that there are no simple solutions to complex problems. It is, however, a comprehensive orientation from which communities, schools, and colleges may build drug abuse programs to fit their own particular needs.

Purpose of TSS is to help create a healthier society by integrating current knowledge about—and attitudes toward—drugs and their abuse into American life through the family, school, and community.

Although it is a recent development, TSS is catching on as a useful and innovative concept and approach and is spreading around the country, with a number of State and local mental health and other agencies having obtained packages of the films and materials and putting them to use.

Any community agency interested in further information about this new resource may obtain it by writing to: Social Seminar, Office of Communications, National Institute of Mental Health, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

"On this graveyard
we shall build our golden Bangladesh."

A dream needs help.

Millions of Bengali
children have a dream.
But a dream needs medicine, good water, and a roof over their heads. And food, blankets, and money.

Send to the United Nations Children's Fund brings high protein foods to three millions of hungry children.
$3 buys a blanket. And more money means more to be done than a dream.
